

Remembrance Day

The children have been exploring British Values by learning all about Remembrance Day. We have discussed what it is and why we wear poppies in November. We have talked about the poppy flower and its significance and looked at various photographs of them. We listened to a story and watched the poppies growing after the countries had fallen out. We then looked at poppies and made poppy biscuits. We made them by dripping and spreading red icing sugar on to a biscuit then adding a chocolate button to the centre.
